Subject: Re: Walmart's Banking Application

While a small part of me wonders where the rest of the world was, when Walmart began their destruction of the American economy, I still must voice my concern about allowing Walmart to now create an un-fair advantage, and ultimately control the flow of funds to any enterprise that does not benefit them directly.

There can be no doubt that Walmart, is driven by a level of greed that is without parallel in the history of the world.

If you allow them to proceed, it will be the end of all regional banking establishments. It is a certainty, that the tens of thousands of Americans who have worked in the Banking industry will suffer while virtually all of their jobs will be sourced over-seas. A Homeland security issue will ultimately surface, perhaps too late, because all of the confidential data will now be in the hands of the highest bidder, without regard to their national interests.

"But for that Mrs.Lincoln...How did you like the play?"

Clearly, allowing Walmart into the world of banking is a bad idea. Will you have the internal fortitude to deny them? Will you have the moral fiber to ignore their financial incentives?

The World is watching, and praying for your wisdom,and resolve.
